

Thank you, Superheroes!

Thousands of British Columbians have come to the aid of BC's children, helping us raise $115 million toward the $200-million Campaign for BC Children.

Together with the Government of British Columbia and with the support of thousands of corporate and individual donors across BC, we're preparing to build a new BC Children's Hospital capable of delivering world-class pediatric care for generations to come. With your support, we're also funding Child Health BC, an initiative of BC Children's Hospital that is already giving kids all over BC access to specialized care closer to home.

As construction of the new BC Children's Hospital gets underway, we'd like to pay special tribute to the following Superheroes who have supported the Campaign for BC Children with gifts of $1 million or more.
